

On-line Advocacy Resources

The Guidance Channel is an educational publishing and media company whose mission is to provide children, students, parents, adults and professionals with timely effective tools that help them or their clients make critical life choices. Guidance materials and other publications, products and resources are offered over the Internet at the company's many web sites and through specialized direct mail catalogs.

The Guidance Channel Companies include:

The Bureau for At-Risk Youth: Guidance and prevention materials for K-12 schools, youth service and juvenile justice organizations. www.at-risk.com

Childswork/Childsplay: Play therapy resources and training programs in the U.S., focusing on therapeutic tools used by counselors and family/child therapists to address the social and emotional needs of children and adolescents. www.Childswork.com

Great Events Publishing: Leading publisher of event celebration materials including: Earth Day, Black History Month and Teacher Appreciation Week. www.GreatEventsPublishing.com

JayJo Books: Publisher of books for children who suffer with chronic illnesses and conditions. www.GuidanceChannel.com

Military Family Resources: Innovative products for Family Support and Service Centers, Family Advocacy Programs, Youth and Child Development Programs, Drug Reduction Staff, Chaplains, schools and others assisting military families worldwide. www.MilitaryFamily.com

Red Ribbon Resources: source for drug and alcohol prevention materials. www.RedRibbonResources.com

Wellness Reproductions & Publishing: Ready-to-use resources that promote mental wellness and life skills education for adults, older adults, and youth. www.Wellness-Resources.com